3. Accountability for Onward Transfer

In the event that we transfer Personal Data covered by this Privacy Shield Policy to a third party acting as a controller, we will do so consistent with any notice provided to Data Subjects and any consent they have given, and only if the third party has given us contractual assurances that it will (i) process the Personal Data for limited and specified purposes consistent with any consent provided by the Data Subjects; (ii) provide at least the same level of protection as is required by the Privacy Shield Principles and notify us if it makes a determination that it cannot do so; and (iii) cease processing of the Personal Data or take other reasonable and appropriate steps to remediate if it makes such a determination. If we have knowledge that a third party acting as a controller is processing Personal Data covered by this Privacy Shield Policy in a way that is contrary to the Privacy Shield Principles, we will take reasonable steps to prevent or stop such processing.

With respect to our agents, we will transfer only the Personal Data covered by this Privacy Shield Policy that is needed for the agent to deliver the requested product or service. Furthermore, we will (i) permit the agent to process such Personal Data only for limited and specified purposes; (ii) require the agent to provide at least the same level of privacy protection as is required by the Privacy Shield Principles; (iii) take reasonable and appropriate steps to ensure that the agent effectively processes the Personal Data transferred in a manner consistent with Bravo's obligations under the Privacy Shield Principles; and (iv) require the agent to notify Bravo if it makes a determination that it can no longer meet its obligation to provide the same level of protection as is required by the Privacy Shield Principles. We take reasonable and appropriate measures to protect Personal Data covered by this Privacy Shield Policy from loss, misuse, and unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, and destruction, taking into due account the risks involved in the processing and the nature of the Personal Data.

5. Data Integrity and Purpose Limitation

We limit the collection of Personal Data covered by this Privacy Shield Policy to information that is relevant for the purposes of processing. We do not process such Personal Data in a way that is incompatible with the purposes for which it has been collected or subsequently authorized by the Data Subject.

We take reasonable steps to ensure that such Personal Data is reliable for its intended use, accurate, complete, and current. We only retain Personal Data in identifiable form only for as long as it serves a purpose that is compatible with the purposes for which the Personal Data was collected or subsequently authorized by the Data Subject.

Data Subjects whose Personal Data is covered by this Privacy Shield Policy have the right to access such Personal Data and to correct, amend, or delete such Personal Data if it is inaccurate or has been processed in violation of the Privacy Shield Principles (except when the burden or expense of providing access, correction, amendment, or deletion would be disproportionate to the risks to the Data Subject's privacy, or where the rights of persons other than the Data Subject would be violated). We have further committed to refer unresolved privacy complaints under the EU-U.S. and Swiss-U.S. Privacy Shield Principles to our third-party dispute resolution provider, Judicial Arbitration and Mediation Services ("JAMS"). If you do not receive timely acknowledgment of your complaint, or if your complaint is not satisfactorily addressed, please visit www.jamsadr.com/international-mediation-rules for more information and to file a complaint.

Under certain conditions detailed in the Privacy Shield, Data Subjects may be able to invoke binding arbitration before the Privacy Shield Panel to be created by the U.S. Department of Commerce and the European Commission.

We agree to periodically review and verify our compliance with the Privacy Shield Principles, and to remedy any issues arising out of failure to comply with the Privacy Shield Principles. We acknowledge that failure to provide an annual self-certification to the U.S. Department of Commerce will result in Bravo's removal from the Department's list of Privacy Shield participants.
